SUBJ: Monthly Report for April 2023

Here is a summary of items since our last meeting:

- Attended the Northwest Managers Meeting in Fairbanks. I met with one of the lead grant writers contracted out by AML who has given me feedback on the grant applications. It's always best to put a name to face.
- Will have made changes and submitted the Denali Commission grant application for a new trash truck by the time of the meeting.
- Submitted a revised Community Budget Request to the Borough for $100,000 to put towards a new trash truck. AEB will begin their budget talks this month and we should have a better idea of where we stand after their meeting on Thursday.
- DOT+PF field offices are currently scoring the TAP and CTP transportation funding grant opportunities. I had to resend some documents to our regional planner that she missed in the first email but all is well on that front.
- Filled out the quarterly APOC reports and some other routine reports.
- Sent follow up thank you letters to the tribes in Sand Point who generously donated towards our efforts to upgrade and protect the community.

Re: Softball Camp and Adult July Games

This letter is a request for funding a softball camp this coming June and July.

In the summer of 2022 there was a nice, supportive response from children and parents alike. Kids were great, adults were respectful, and it was an overall good community activity.

This camp would be run from June 12 until the July 4th weekend, when the adult games would be scheduled. The softball camp would be open to kids having completed kindergarten to 6th grade.

Perhaps the best part was using some of the funds to allow young kids to have their first job. The workers would start on June 8th, helping prepare the field and move equipment.

Foreseeable problems include:

- (1) Upkeep of grass (it really needs to be mowed once). Last summer we were able to use the AEB mower and Austin Roof stepped up to help, which was a great thing.
- (2) A poorly secured storage area and snack bar. I am reaching out to see if there is someone who would help keep that poor thing going! I'm finding it a huge task to haul equipment around, and the shed is a great way to keep equipment right there.
- (3) This building also doubles as a snack bar, and the kids love the social aspect of budgeting their money, buying snacks (for almost nothing) and learning the importance of picking up their trash and leaving the field in respectable condition. (My rule is if litter is left on field, snack bar closed the following game day!).

I am hopeful that I can resolve the storage unit problem. Any ideas are welcome! My request is for $3800, because of the increase in freight costs, groceries and equipment. I hope you will consider my proposal.

Sincerely,

Jerri Nyberg

Dear

Pink Rain Champagne is a grass roots project in honor of my mother, Carlene Holmberg. She was diagnosed with breast cancer in February 2020, and very quickly passed away in July 2020. I founded PRC to honor her kindness, raise awareness about breast cancer and encourage people in our communities to advocate for their health.

PRC holds a Pink walk on the first Saturday of July, followed by a barbeque, raffle, and Pink Party. We are preparing for year three.

Carlene always donated to our local Cancer Fund and Baptist Church. With the last two years of PRC's events being successful, we have been able to continue to donate to them in her name. In the past two years, we were able to donate $9,200 to the Cancer Fund and $4,000 to the Baptist Church. A portion is kept for the following year's start up events, and towards local families dealing with cancer and the unexpected expenses that come with a diagnosis.

I am humbled by all the support and success of PRC's events and message. I am asking if you would like to contribute towards PRC's day of events, either with donated items or cash donations to help cover the costs of these events.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me via email at pinkrainchampagne@gmail.com.

Sincerely,
Carmen R. Holmberg

RE: Donation Request-Fundraising for NBC Basketball Camp

Dear Mayor and Council Members:

For the past few years, we have been fundraising and sending groups of kids to NBC Basketball Camp in Anchorage. Getting our kids off the island and exposed to other kids, coaches, and mentors has been huge deal for them.

This year, we have 10 kids, ages 7th-12th grade, signed up for NBC Complete Player Basketball Camp, held at Alaska Pacific University, May 30st-June 3, 2023. The students will participate in up to 10 hours per day of basketball skill work, fundamentals, games and tournaments, and leadership training. The cost of each child to attend camp is $719, plus airfare. The students signed up to attend are: Arianna Wilson, Rowdy Tripp, Morgan Gundersen, Nevaeh Marcus, Misty Marine, Charlotte Marcus, Derek Wilson, Precious Kaminanga, Kaipō Kaminanga, and Kaylee Gundersen-Marcus.

We are hoping that you will consider donating $1000 to go towards their registration fees. (See attached expense spreadsheet) They will still have a long way to go to cover travel costs, so any help would be greatly appreciated. If you have any questions, my contact information is listed above. The donation can be made directly to NBC Camps, LLC, 10003 N Division, Spokane, WA 99218.

Thank you for considering this donation request.

Regards,

Jade Gundersen

ADJOURNMENT

FYI

LEGISLATIVE REPORT #23-05

New Revenue Forecast Shows Bigger Deficit, New Tax Proposals

- The Department of Revenue's revenue forecast for spring 2023 and FY 2024 estimates a decrease in oil prices and oil production. The state faces a deficit of about $925 million between FY 2023 spending and the projected FY 2024 budget. The House passed a "fast-track" supplemental bill this week, using the Constitutional Budget Reserve to cover the expected FY 2023 shortfall of $250 million. The Senate is expected to act quickly to approve this legislation.
- The legislature faces a conundrum trying to cover the projected shortfall of $675 million in FY 2024, while significantly increasing the base student allocation (BSA) for K-12 education funding. Factoring in the desire of many, including Governor Dunleavy, to pay a full Permanent Fund dividend of $2,700 or more per person is the last piece of the challenge. Several proposals have been discussed to address the dividend formula, ranging from a 75/25 formula (75% government services/25% dividends) a 50/50 split, and a cap of $1,000 per person per year.
- The combination of these challenges are moving the legislature to give serious consideration to modifying certain oil tax provisions or the passage of a broad-based tax such as a state sales tax. The Senate Rules Committee introduced Senate Bill No. 114 this week to increase oil taxes by reducing the oil tax credit from $8 to $5 per barrel with annual use limits, equalizing corporate income tax paid by oil producers, and establishing "ringfencing" around specific fields to limit use of oilfield expenditures to reduce taxes.
- On the House side, Rep. Ben Carpenter (R-Nikiski), Chair of the House & Ways Means Committee, intends to introduce a state sales tax as early as next Monday. Details have not been disclosed yet, but options may include a temporary seasonal sales tax. The proposal has been scheduled for a hearing on Wednesday evening (March 29).

House Moves Closer to Passing FY 2024 Budget

- The House Finance Committee is expected to consider amendments to its FY 2024 operating budget proposal during the coming week and then pass it out of committee to the House floor. The following is a summary of relevant provisions in the most recent draft.
 - Full funding of school debt reimbursement for FY 2024.
 - Full funding of K-12 funding but no additional money. Governor proposed (HB 106/SB 97) to pay teachers three years of lump sum payments as recruitment and retention incentives as an alternative to a BSA increase.
 - Full funding of PCE payments.
 - Community Assistance for FY 2024 should continue at current level. An FY 2024 appropriation of $30 million is included in latest House version to capitalize the fund for next year.

Willow Project Revenue Prospects, Legal Woes

- The Alaska Department of Natural Resources recently issued a revised revenue estimate that ConocoPhillips' Willow oil project should begin to pay dividends to the state by 2030. Initial projections suggested it could be a decade or more before more revenue is generated than will be lost from oil production taxes in other locations across the North Slope. Changing the current oil tax regime to add "ringfencing" would further improve Willow's impact on the state's revenue picture.
- A day after President Biden's approval of ConocoPhillips' Willow oil project in the National Petroleum Reserve-Alaska (NPR-A), a lawsuit was filed by six conservation entities. The environmental and indigenous groups claim the federal government failed to consider climate risks and potential harm to wildlife and subsistence hunting. The groups argue that laws under the National Environmental Policy Act require consideration of alternatives that would lessen the impacts to "the region's wildlife, air, water, land, and people."

Other Capitol News

- BSA Increase: Progress continues in the House and Senate to enact a major increase in BSA funding starting with next school year. Senate Education completed its work on Senate Bill No. 52, moving it to Senate Finance on March 13. This version increases the BSA by $1,000 in FY24, another $348 in FY25, and makes an inflation adjustment in FY26. House Education approved a modified version of House Bill No. 65 on March 22, moving it to House Finance. Changes to this version increase the BSA by $680 in FY 2024 and another $120 in FY 2025.
- Efforts to Block Salary Increases Rebuffed: Last week, legislators failed to block salary increases for themselves, Governor Dunleavy, and top executive branch officials. If approved, lawmakers would receive a salary increase of 67%, from $50,400 to $84,000 per year, while the executive branch leaders would receive about a 20% salary increase. If no further action is taken by the legislature, the raises will automatically go into effect. Though the legislature passed legislation to reject the pay raises, Governor Dunleavy vetoed it. Attempts by the House to override the veto were rejected by the Senate. More information on the issue can be found here.
- Fisheries Legislation Highlighted at ComFish: Senate President Gary Stevens (R-Kodiak) and Representative Louise Stutes (R-Kodiak) recently discussed fishery-related legislation at ComFish Alaska, a commercial fisheries trade show hosted in Kodiak. Stevens was pleased to share that the passage of a bill he sponsored last year to extend and expand tax credits for processors has had an "enormous impact" on processors and fishermen. Stutes provided an overview of several bills she's working on this legislature, including House Bill No. 18, which would "allow regional associations developing new fisheries to form and assess taxes on participants to raise money for management." Stutes reintroduced other fishery-related legislation, including House Bill No. 19 and House Bill No. 20.
- Alaska Wildfire Outlook: The Alaska Division of Forestry and the Alaska Interagency Coordination Center (AICC) are predicting "normal fire potential" in Alaska through June, except for the Yukon-Kuskokwim Delta. In a summary of AICC's complete report, AICC's Fire Weather Program Manager Heidi Strader explained that "low snowpack" may make the Y-K Delta more vulnerable to wildfires this season, "as much of their winter precipitation has come in the form of rain instead of snow." Last year, more than 3 million acres were burned by wildfires, due in large part to record-breaking fires in the Y-K Delta. Last week, Vice President Kamala Harris announced $197 million in funding awards to "make communities more resilient to wildfires and strengthen the federal, state, and local response."
