Douglas Holmberg asked whether it was true that the City stopped funding the drug officer. Mayor Smith further confirmed that he is still employed by the City and commended the department he is in on the work they are doing.

COUNCIL COMMENTS:

Council Member Amy Eubank thanked Alan Aldred for his time serving as EMS Director, Brandon Gundersen for advancing his training, Mayor Smith for speaking up for the City and Council, and the police department for being here.

Amy Eubank requested a Special Meeting for the purpose of reviewing and discussing financial matters more thoroughly.

Council Member Jani Gundersen spoke about the drug problem in the community and said that it will take everyone working together to address it, not just one person or group.

Council Member Austin Roof welcomed the new officer and thanked Alan Aldred for working with EMS, noting the importance of filling the vacant position soon to ensure continued ambulance service. He also thanked the Finance Director and Administrator for completing the audit, stating that it provides a clearer understanding of the City's financial status and will help the City move forward with better financial oversight, allowing departments to accomplish more.

Council Member Amy Eubank requested a Special Meeting to have a more in-depth discussion regarding finance.

Administrator Debi Schmit added that she thinks that there can be a more in-depth conversation about finances at the next workshop.

ADMINISTRATOR

City of Sand Point

MEMORANDUM

TO: Mayor Smith and City Council Members
FROM: Debi Schmit, City Administrator
DATE: November 2025
SUBJECT: Monthly Report

Below is a summary of some of the items I have worked on since our last meeting:

- Mayor Smith, Dylan Jacobsen, and I met with Aleutians East Borough (AEB) representatives regarding the water line to the new harbor. Initially, AEB thought they had enough money left in the MARAD grant to connect city water to the new harbor. To ensure the water line was never installed, city crews dug to confirm that it was not. Unfortunately, AEB does not have enough money available in the MARAD grant to pursue a new waterline. Therefore, they will be requesting permission from MARAD to purchase a portable water pump that will serve the fire protection needs of the float in the new harbor.
- Mayor Smith and I are still working with West Marine to clean up the scrap metal debris that is left at the harbor.
- I attended some of the Alaska Federation of Natives meetings on October 16—18. Key issues discussed this year included strengthening Hawaii-Alaska partnerships, collective voting power to protect hunting and fishing rights, stronger subsistence laws and management, increased funding for public safety, healthcare, and education, as well as public broadcasting.
- Mayor Smith and I have had several meetings, including with the finance staff, to discuss the way forward. The new software I mentioned in an email to you earlier this week is being installed now. We look forward to presenting financial details, including revenue and expenditure trends, as well as the actual results of department and enterprise operations at a finance meeting next January.

- ANTHC asked us to post a public Notice for the supplemental funding to fund the Water Treatment Plant upgrades project fully. However, the supplemental funding for the Water Treatment Plant Upgrades and the Johnson Avenue Sewer Main Replacement are both currently held up by the Federal Government Shutdown. ANTHC is hoping the shutdown ends so they can receive the funds and prepare for 2026 construction.
- More good news is that the clinic lease increase and the planned maintenance to the building have been informally approved (not yet signed). I hope to have Paul Mueller present or available to discuss this with you.
- While the USDA $750,000 grant is still not available, I can start working on the grant paperwork. Just a reminder: we still need matching funds for this project.

MEMORANDUM TO COUNCIL

TO: Mayor Smith and City Council Members
FROM: Debi Schmit, City Administrator
DATE: November 7, 2025
SUBJECT: Donation Procedure

Council discussed its donation process at the August and October meetings. In October, staff were directed to 1) present a game of chance financial report at each regular City Council meeting, and 2) draft a donation procedure to be discussed at the November meeting.

Recommended considerations were as follows:

- Calculate the standard requests (Easter, Christmas, student and school requests, etc.), then determine a donation cap.
- Present a draft donation procedure.

The attached donation procedure is for discussion purposes. Pay attention to the cap amount and the annual request limit. Staff feel that the current process is adequate if you are aware of the amount of money you have available to consider. In my research, several communities have stopped accepting donation requests due to budget constraints. Additionally, I have noticed that many individuals allocate a specific amount in their annual budget for regular donations to community events.

City of Sand Point Donation Request Procedure

Purpose:

To establish a clear and consistent process for organizations or individuals requesting donations from the City of Sand Point.

Procedure:

1. All donation requests must be submitted using the official City of Sand Point Donation Request Application Form.
2. A maximum of two (2) donation requests per organization may be submitted each calendar year.
3. The combined total of all approved requests may not exceed $3,000 per year.
4. Completed forms should be submitted to the City Clerk's Office.
5. Requests are subject to City Council review and approval.
6. Applicants will be notified once a decision has been made.
7. All approved donations must comply with city financial procedures and may be subject to audit.

Donation Request Guidelines

1. Submission Deadline:
Donation requests must be submitted no later than the Wednesday preceding the next Regular City Council Meeting to be included on the meeting agenda.
2. Budget Requirement:
A detailed budget or cost breakdown must be included with all donation requests. Requests submitted without a budget will not be considered.
3. Funding Availability:
Donation amounts will be evaluated based on available City funds and current gaming fund revenues. The availability of gaming funds and the amount received to date will be taken into consideration when determining award levels. All approvals and funding amounts are at the discretion of the City Council.

Dear Mayor Smith and Council,

It's hard to believe it's already October, Christmas is just around the corner! The Qagan Tayagungin Tribe is starting to make preparations for our Community Christmas Potluck. As I'm sure you know, this joyful event provides all Sand Point community members a chance to come together to enjoy the holidays as a community as well as a chance to win prizes and money. All of the children of Sand Point will also receive their first Christmas gift of the season!

The Qagan Tayagungin Tribe is inviting you to be involved in these festivities by contributing a donation to cover some of the food, gifts, supplies, and decorations. Each year we purchase gifts for approximately 100 children, including some for children who may not have been present when we put together our Christmas list to ensure each child who attends receives a gift. We would also like to continue doing a money tree and adult gifts during the potluck if funds allow. With the cost of gifts and other supplies, (tablecloths, utensils, decorations, and food) we anticipate the cost of the 2025 Christmas potluck to be approximately $10,000.

There is no better way to kick off the holiday season than to celebrate together with family, friends, community, food, and fun. We have appreciated the support you've shown the community and this event in the past, and hope you will continue to support the Tribe in keeping this tradition alive and thriving. Any donation will be greatly appreciated. If you have any questions regarding this event, please feel free to contact the tribal office.

Sincerely,
Amy Mack

DATE: November 6, 2025
SUBJECT: Mayor and Administrator Responsibilities Review

Council directed staff to provide information regarding the responsibilities of the Mayor and City Administrator. This discussion and goals were set during the FY25 strategic planning process and were deemed complete by the staff. However, the Council agreed it was time to review best practices. The council wants to review other cities' models of government that appear to deliver good results.

Staff have researched the models of other Alaskan cities, reviewed the City of Sand Point Ordinance, and the job descriptions. Other information about both positions is attached to the review.

Staff are seeking guidance on the next steps. You can choose the cities you want to learn more about, and our staff can gather information such as organizational charts, workflows, and more. If you already have an idea of how you want to structure for future success, we can begin working on the government model, organizational processes, etc.

Why Hire a City Administrator?

In a strong mayor city, a city administrator (or chief administrative officer) is hired to serve under the mayor. Hiring someone who works from out of town offers specific benefits, primarily related to professional, apolitical administration and a wider talent pool.

Role of a City Administrator in a Strong Mayor Government

Even in a "strong mayor" system where the mayor is the chief executive, the mayor may lack specific training in municipal administration and finance to oversee all operations effectively. The city administrator position is created as part of a hybrid government model to professionalize city operations and manage day-to-day details.

Key functions of the city administrator include:

- Professional Management: The administrator is a qualified professional, often with a graduate degree in public administration or business administration responsible for the efficient running of city departments and services based on professional qualifications rather than political connections.
- Separation of Politics and Administration: The role aims to separate the administrative, technical aspects of running the city from the political sphere. The mayor focuses on policy development, political leadership, and vision, while the administrator executes that vision and implements laws approved by the council.
- Continuity: An appointed administrator can provide stability and continuity in city operations across multiple mayoral terms, which is crucial for long-term projects and staff management.
- Expertise: The administrator brings specific expertise in areas like budget preparation, personnel administration, organizational processes, strategic planning, and project management that elected officials might not possess.

Benefits of an Out-of-Town Administrator

Hiring a city administrator who works from out of town (or is recruited from outside the community) offers distinct advantages:

- Expanded Talent Pool: The primary benefit of recruiting from outside the local area is access to a larger pool of experienced and highly qualified professionals. This allows the city to find the best candidate nationwide, not just within the city limits.
- Impartiality and Neutrality: An external candidate is less likely to have pre-existing local political ties or personal relationships with city staff or special interest groups. This helps ensure decisions, such as hiring/firing department heads or awarding contracts, are based strictly on professional qualifications and merit, rather than local politics.
- Fresh Perspective: An administrator from a different town can bring in innovative management techniques and successful approaches used in other communities, offering a fresh perspective on local challenges without being hindered by local historical conflicts or established practices.
- Clear Accountability: An out-of-town administrator often operates under clear, contractually defined responsibilities and serves "at the pleasure" of the mayor/council, making lines of accountability direct and transparent.

Key Skills and Responsibilities of a Mayor

The role of mayor is a political office filled through a municipal election. Voters choose who will make important decisions that affect those who live in the city. A mayor typically works with municipal officials and other leaders to oversee the day-to-day operations of the local government. At the same time, their responsibilities may vary depending on the local government structure.

What is a mayor?

In Sand Point, the residents elect a mayor who serves as the city's top executive. The mayor oversees public work, the boat harbor, the city hall, including fire, police, emergency medical services, utility services, etc. The mayor is a member of the council and leads the city council meetings.

What does a Mayor do?

The responsibilities of a mayor in Sand Point are outlined in Ordinances. Typical duties for a mayor include:

- Executive Authority: Enforce city laws and oversee the administration of city departments.
- Budget Control: Prepare and manage the city budget, allocating funds to various departments and services.
- Policy Development: Propose and advocate for new policies and initiatives to address community needs.
- Appointment Powers: Appoint and remove key city officials, including department heads.
- Legislative Influence: Work closely with the city council to influence legislation and ensure alignment with the mayor's agenda.
- Public Representation: Serve as the primary representative of the city in public events and official functions.
- Crisis Management: Lead the city's response during emergencies and coordinate with public safety agencies.

- Community Engagement: Foster relationships with residents and stakeholders to gather input and address concerns.
- Economic Development: Promote business growth and development initiatives to enhance the local economy.
- Intergovernmental Relations: Collaborate with state and federal officials to secure funding and support for city projects.

Key skills for a mayor

A successful mayor possesses a broad range of skills that encompass both interpersonal and professional abilities. To succeed as a mayor, it is beneficial to have the following skills:

- Communication
Communication skills allow a mayor to express themselves clearly both in person and in written text. A mayor may use their communication skills when speaking with constituents, other government officials, and representatives of businesses the town works with. Practical communication skills reduce misunderstandings and make a mayor more effective within their official capacities.
- Decision-making
Decision-making skills allow a mayor to assess the information presented to them and come to the correct conclusion about the best option to pursue. As a top government official, a mayor is often responsible for making important decisions that affect their residents. Effective decision-making allows a mayor to perform at their best and maximize the benefits they provide to their citizens through the policies and events the mayor authorizes.
- Economic development
Economic development skills provide a mayor with the education and experience required to identify and execute plans that foster economic growth within a community. Providing a healthy economy and opportunity to residents is a primary responsibility of a mayor and often one of the most important factors in a mayor's approval ratings. Building an understanding of economic development can help a mayor improve conditions within their city and make its residents more prosperous.

- Empathy

Empathy represents a mayor's ability to understand another person's position and how they are feeling. It is a critical skill for interacting with residents to understand their needs and why they're addressing particular issues. Mayors should also demonstrate empathy with fellow politicians to find common ground when discussing public matters. An empathetic mayor may be more capable of serving all of their constituents, not just those who they can directly relate to, allowing them to be more effective in the role.

- Leadership

Leadership is a mayor's ability to inspire those working underneath them to follow the mayor's plan and achieve results to their fullest potential. As a senior government position, leadership is a critical skill for a mayor to possess. A mayor who is a strong leader is more capable of getting full commitment from staff for their initiative, which can lead to higher productivity and improved results.

- Financial management

A mayor's financial management skills allow them to use their available budget effectively to maximize the benefits it provides. A mayor operating within a strong-mayor system often has the right of final approval for the budget. Understanding the principles of financial management allows the mayor to more efficiently allocate funding and identify the most beneficial uses of all available funding, as well as make more informed cases when the mayor feels a change to the budget or spending plan will benefit residents.

- Negotiation

Negotiation skills allow a mayor to reach favorable agreements when planning with parties who have different interests than the mayor. Negotiation skills may benefit a mayor when setting prices with contractors working on government initiatives. A mayor can also negotiate with other government officials to create compromise agreements in order to enact new policies.

- Persuasion

Persuasion skills allow a mayor to convince others to agree with them on a proposal. Strong persuasive abilities are beneficial to a mayor not only while in office, where persuasion allows the mayor to attain more favorable results when setting policies, but also when seeking to become a mayor. Persuading voters or town council members that you are the best choice for the position is a critical part of becoming a mayor.

- Political savvy

Political savvy represents a mayor's ability to operate within the political sector to achieve their goals. A mayor uses their political savvy throughout their career, both when seeking political positions and after earning them. Understanding politics allows a mayor to maneuver within a city or town's political structure in order to advance their political agenda by making connections and avoiding mistakes.

- Public administration

Public administration skills encompass the knowledge and application of tasks required for a government's basic operations. As an executive position, the mayor is often responsible for managing work across many government departments. Public administration skills allow the mayor to oversee the work being done by others within the government and by contractors hired by the government.

- Mayor's education requirements

Although there are no formal education requirements for a mayoral candidate, most mayors have advanced degrees. Common fields to consider as an aspiring mayor include public administration, political science, and business. Candidates who do not possess a degree from a college or university may promote their connection with the working class, increasing their relatability.
